Discernment and Formation for the Vocation of Consecrated Virginity Lived in the World

The United States Association of Consecrated Virgins is pleased to make available a new guide to discernment and formation for the vocation of consecrated virginity lived in the world.

Volume Two is addressed, in the first place, to bishops and those assisting them. It provides an integrated approach to discernment and formation for the woman seeking admission to the Order of Virgins in the Catholic Church. The first part of the text describes the central elements of a vocation of consecrated virginity; considers four stages of admission to the vocation; and proposes essential aspects of discernment for this distinct form of consecrated life. The second part of the text addresses requisite formation for the fruitful living of a lifelong vocation of virginity for Christ as it considers the four pillars of formation: spiritual, human, intellectual, and pastoral.

This volume is the second of the series Ordo Virginum – The Restoration of the Order of Virgins in the Catholic Church. The first volume, An Introduction to the Vocation of Consecrated Virginity Lived in the World, was published in 2012 and re-printed in 2017.
